Don't forget to delete your message after sending and empty your trash.

Don't forget to delete your message after sending and delete your chat after the interaction is over.
You can share material in any language and in any format. Send us a message and we will guide you on how to share videos, documents and other confidential material, which will be stored securely in an encrypted database.

Tell us if you have additional concerns about your safety. We will only contact you if it is safe to do so.

Next, our investigators, lawyers and specialists will analyze your material. We can only give you general feedback on how it is used to build cases because criminal investigations must be kept confidential.

We do not share your information, or any details about your identity, without your consent.
